EUROPEAN STORMS.

Immense Damage Done and Great Loss of Life Results—Michigan Ore Docks Destroyed.

Crimes and Casualties from Various Parts of the Country—A Legal Hanging in Pennsylvania.

Brussels, Nov. 30.—Reports from various parts of Europe show vast destruction of property and probable great loss of life as a result of the storms of yesterday. Twenty vessels are known to have been cast ashore. The storm is one of the severest ever known on the continent.

Big Ore Docks Burn.
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 30.—The immense ore dock at Escanaba, Mich., burned last night, entailing a loss of a million dollars.

These ore docks were the largest in the world, and were operated by steam. Two firemen were killed.

The Shot Was Fatal.
De Koven, Ky., Nov. 30.—Walter Whitehead, who was shot yesterday by Gus Shipley, died this morning. The shooting was in self defense.

Hanged By Law.
Snowden, Pa., Nov. 30.—George Douglas, a negro murderer, was hanged at Pittsburgh today by the sheriff.

All Over a Woman.
Sturgis, Ky., Nov. 30.—Tony Hughes killed George Smith this morning here in a fight which came up over a woman.

RAILROAD COMMISSION.
Complete Their Annual Report of Kentucky Roads.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 30.—The railroad commission has completed its annual report. It shows a large decrease in the net earnings of Kentucky railroads.

NOTES FROM BREWERS.

Brewers, Ky., Nov. 29.—General prosperity has truly visited this place. His footprints are seen at R. W. Perry's in the shape of a fine cottage. At H. B. Adick's in goat and grain. At Dr. E. F. Dunaway's, a new house and young wife. At M. G. Phipps, a house erecting. At G. Chester's a new barn. At Tom Chester's a new house under way. At J. M. Smith's a feed stable, started and lumber being cut for a new house. A large feed barn towers up in T. E. Brewer's house lot. Corn worth 50 cents per bushel. Tobacco 8 and 10 cents. Wheat worth 20 Mexican silver dollars, and better times looked for all along the line.

Mr. James Parker & Son, general merchant and postmaster of this place, has purchased a lot of half mile west of here, and will soon move goods and postoffice to it.

The S. S. Green saw mill is doing a lively business.

The Yeoman Wood Works of this place is doing a wholesale business in making and selling spinning wheels.

THREE DEER

is What Dr. Frank Boyd Killed in Michigan.

Dr. Frank Boyd returned this morning from his hunt in Michigan. Supt. J. J. Hills returned yesterday, but Mr. George Robertson will not return for some time.

Dr. Boyd himself killed three deer, but the whole party, during their hunt, killed ten or a dozen of them, in addition to much small game.

We have fifty pairs of shoes that will be sold for $2.50; others ask $3.50. Call and see them, extra high tips, three soles, oil grain, water proof, just the thing for hunting and bad weather. Call early and be fitted. Lendler & Lydon. 30p/4t

SEWERAGE BEING TESTED.

Quite a Crowd Assembled at the City Hall to Attend the Inspection of Our Sewerage System.

Police Court In Session This Morning—Other News In and About the City of Interest.

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the mayor, council, Consulting Engineer Elliott, City Engineer Wilcox, Contractor White, newspaper representatives and others assembled at the city hall for the purpose of inspecting the sewerage system.

The crowd proceeded to Sixth and Jefferson streets, where the inspection began.

It was still in progress at press time, and everything pointed to a successful test.

William Copeland, aged 70 years, died Sunday of pneumonia at his home near Oak Level, Marshall county. He leaves a wife and several children.

Chas. Duer, colored, has been warranted on a charge of house-breaking. He is at large.

The fire department was called to Third and Husham streets about 1 o'clock this morning to extinguish a blaze in a stable on the premises of Mrs. Price, supposed to have been started by a tramp. Dispatcher Billy Hills, of the N. C. & St. L., discovered the fire.

An eccentric looking individual giving the name of Prof. L. C. Slater, of Brookville, Bracken county, struck town last night. He is very sensible, wears long hair, and is sixty-seven years old. He claims to be a poet, author, actor and singer, and gave evidences of his talent in various places last night.

The little son of the late Mr. B. A. Gardner left this morning for Louisville to be placed in the Masonic home.

This morning a horse driven to one of Mr. J. J. Read's coal wagons became weak in the knees, and sank down near Broadway and Tenth in the middle of the street. A large crowd soon collected, and the animal was soon uplifted by means of levers, and taken to the stable for treatment.

The remains of the tramp supposed to be W. J. Sammons, who dropped dead in "Cathish" Jones' restaurant a few weeks ago, were buried in the county graveyard today.

Rev. J. L. Hill, of Princeton, Ky., and Rev. Sutphin, of Gallatin, Tenn., are guests of Dr. J. T. Reddick.

Andrew Boyd, who goes by the name of Lloyd, his step-father's name, was charged with stealing Actor Cal Melvin's watch at Morich's opera house on the 20th of January. The case was continued until Thursday.

Miss Julia Crowell, of 1247 Broadway, was presented on a charge of stealing $20 from James Hendon, who boards at the same house, Mrs. Bradley's.

The plaintiff was sworn and testified that on the day he lost his money he drew it from the pay car and went to his boarding house. Two of his companions missed the pay car, and he took his money out and offered to lend them some as a joke. In replacing the money in his pocket he dropped $20, but did not miss it until he went to the shops. When he went back after the lost money it was gone. He did not know who took the money, and was sober at the time, having had but two drinks.

Mr. Mayor White was introduced to show that she spent $5 in his store. The defense admitted that she purchased a cloak in the store, paying $5 for it.

Mrs. Arnold, who also boards at the house, swore that she saw the defendant with some money on the night Hendon claims to have lost some. She noticed a $10 bill and a $5 bill in her possession and thought one was new. She claimed that a man named T. C. Ternan gave it to her to keep for him. Mrs. Arnold saw the man hand her some bills Saturday night and told her to put them in her pocket book. He afterwards accompanied them down town to make some purchases.

Miss Crowell, when placed on the stand, swore that the man named above gave her the money. She said he had been giving her his money to pay their debts, and that they are engaged to be married.

The case was left open until Saturday that his evidence may be heard.

Florence Patton, Vic Ballowe, Annie Cox, Mollie Grooms, Ida French, Mollie Nief and Frankie Dixon, all of West Court street, were arraigned on a charge of keeping bawdy houses. Ida French is the only one who answered, and by agreement she was fined $50 and costs, and similar fines were assessed against the others.

Joseph and T. J. Hollahan were in court charged with stealing wheat. Part of the evidence in one case, charging them with stealing Mr. Doland's wheat, was heard yesterday. Yesterday afternoon Mr. George Alston, of Bayou Mills, arrived in the city and swore out another warrant against them for stealing wheat. The warrant sworn out yesterday was executed on them this morning, and the case was continued until Thursday.

The postmen have not yet decided what changes will be made in the time of their delivery.

Additional storm doors are being placed in the big hall at the court house today, to keep the hall warm during the cold winter months.

Postmaster Beck, of Woodville, has settled up all his deficit and the warrant against him was dismissed.

WATER-TANK BURNED.

Blaze on the I. C. at Little Cypress—Accident at the Shops Today.

The Switch Engine Derailed—Several Prominent Railroad Men Here Last Night and Today—Other News.

The pictures of the old water tank at Little Cypress, about fifteen miles above the city on the Illinois Central, was burned this morning at an early hour. Delaying the "cannon ball" from Louisville until after 4 a. m.

The sight of a water tank burning was doubtless new to a majority of the passengers aboard. The blaze almost totally destroyed the huge receptacle, which had been in use for sixteen years, entailing a loss of $300 or more. The supposition this morning was that the blaze originated in the oil and tool house, which was located underneath the tank.

Superintendent of Telegraph G. M. Dugan, of Chicago, was in the city last night.

Roadmaster A. T. Sabin was in city today.

Supt. W. J. Harahan arrived yesterday afternoon from Louisville.

As stated exclusively in the Sox several days ago, Yardmaster R. T. Nelson has resigned on account of his health to take a position on the road, and has been succeeded by Mr. Bob McCann.

Traveling Engineer R. D. Davis and Assistant W. R. Keys were in the city yesterday inspecting air equipments of locomotives on the Memphis division.

The Union depot switch engine, No. 191, was derailed near the Union depot at noon. The locomotive came up the incline with a train of coal cars, and near Sixth street the "drivers" split the switch, and she jumped across three different tracks. A hole was stove in her tank, spilling all her water.

The St. Louis train was delayed over half an hour. No one was injured by the accident.

Conductor John Whedon is here today.

Car Inspector Pat Killeoyne is still on the sick list.

Mr. M. G. Sale, of South Fourth street, a carpenter at the I. C. shops, met with a painful accident this morning. A large chisel fell upon his foot and cut one of his toes off. The injury was dressed by the hospital surgeon.

An unknown man was killed near Dupuy Station, above Central City, by the train which left here yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. He was trying to ride a trestle horseback, and seemed to be drunk. His name had not been reported at headquarters this afternoon.

Tramps are supposed to have accidentally set fire to the tank.

MR. SAM WEAR.

Re-Elected Inspector By the Tobacco Board.

This Year There Will Be But One Inspector.

The Tobacco Board of Trade met yesterday for the purpose of electing an inspector for this locality.

The warehousemen and brokers met in Col. T. H. Puryear's office and elected Mr. Sam Wear, who has been inspector for the past year.

Owing to some disagreement last year there were two inspectors, Messrs. Wear and J. C. Piper, but this year there will be but one.

COLDEST YET.

The Thermometer Went Down to 22 Degrees.

The minimum temperature this morning was 22 degrees above zero, the coldest of the season. It was a still cold, however, and was not felt so keenly as much warmer days.

DEATH IN ROWLANDTOWN.

Mr. J. T. Carter Died Last Night.

Mr. J. Theodore Carter, aged 31, died last night at his home in Rowlandtown of consumption of the bowels. He leaves a wife and three children. The remains will be buried at 11 o'clock tomorrow at Hong's burial ground, on the Blandville road.

ADJOURNED MEETING.

The Council Met Last Night and Will Meet Again Tonight—Cemetery Commissioners Chosen.

Action On the Jefferson Street Improvement Ordinance Was Deferred Until Tonight—The Other Proceedings.

The council met last night in adjourned session; all the members being present.

Mayor Yeiser mentioned the improvement of Adams street, between Eighth and Ninth, which is delayed by an old house in the street. Contractor E. C. Terrell was granted an extension of thirty days.

Mayor Yeiser read the certificates of election from the canvassers of the Democratic city officers, including mayor, councilmen, school trustees, judge, marshal, city prosecuting attorney, etc., their respective bondmen were notified, and the clerk instructed to issue certificates of election.

City Treasurer Donovan was allowed a voucher for $2,350 interest on the city bonds, and several other bills, for money advanced, were allowed.

Mayor Yeiser read a report from the board of health relative to the train inspectors, over whose compensation there has been some controversy. On motion of Councilman Farley the report was received and Drs. Dillon and Sanders were allowed twelve additional days' pay. They had already been allowed pay up to November 1.

A communication from Mrs. Birchett relative to some extra pay was referred to the hospital committee.

Mr. Livingston & Co. were allowed quarter license.

Mr. Kinckleff stated that some of the residents of West Jefferson street claimed they had been assured when they signed the application that the proposed Jefferson street improvement would cost but 75 cents per foot, while it now developed that the cost would be $1.40. They therefore objected to it, and Mr. Kinckleff moved that an ordinance be drafted repealing the first ordinance.

Mr. Barnes objected to a repeal. He said the mayor was not compelled to award any contract under the ordinance, but could readvertise for bids. The objection now raised, he said, was simply to kill the improvement. He moved that action be deferred until tomorrow night, and the motion prevailed.

Mr. Starks moved that an election of trustees for Oak Grove cemetery for one, two and three years, respectively, be entered into. The three trustees were elected some time back, but they failed to qualify as it would have rendered them ineligible as councilmen, all three being councilmen.

For the one year term Judge J. L. Belshires was elected.

For the two year term Mr. T. J. Atkins was elected.

For the three year term Councilman J. E. Williamson was elected.

Councilman Kirchoff said if something wasn't done to beautify the park in Fountain Park avenue, donated by the property owners, the latter would withdraw it.

Chairman Kirchoff, of the park committee, was authorized to do what he deemed necessary in the matter.

Councilman Barnes said a resolution had previously been passed authorizing the street inspector to roll West Jefferson street and Fountain Park with the street roller, and it had never been done.

The street inspector was instructed to attend to it at once.

On motion of Mr. Bell the water company was instructed to extend the water mains from Smith & Scott's to Boyd street.

The water company was authorized to extend its mains to Trimble street on Thirteenth.

Supt. Davis, of the electric light plant, was authorized to place a light at Second and Ohio streets.

Councilman Williamson asked why the city's male roller was allowed to obstruct Harrison street near Seventh, where it went into a sewer trench last week. The matter will be attended to.

The council adjourned until 7 o'clock tonight.

An English soap factory is to be established at Pittsburgh, Pa., of sufficient size to give employment to one thousand persons. As the alien contract law forbids importing any of their English workmen, the operatives of the factory must all be Americans. This is one effort of the Dingley tariff. It is a creator of home markets for American farm products.

The object of protection in America is not so much to raise prices, except where they are unreasonably low, as to keep the foreigner out of the market. The tariff that builds up and preserves for American industry the prosperous American market, "the best in the world," that is a protective tariff in the best sense of the word.—Hornellville (N. Y.) Times.

The nerve of the Louisville Dispatch is refreshing. It wants the legislature to pass a law for its special benefit. The Dispatch claims that the news companies are boycotting it and it wants a law passed against boycotting. And yet, time and time again, the Dispatch has urged its readers to boycott all merchants who do not advertise in the Dispatch. In fact that has been the great argument of bluff that it has been using with which to get business. [A boycott is all right—that is, if the right party is boycotted.]

THE SUN has no interest in the sewers or the Democratic caucus, beyond what any good citizen may have, who desires that the public shall be well served. It has made but one decided criticism on the caucus' action, and it was and is a just one. The SUN recognizes the right of the council to elect to office any person who suits its pleasure and acknowledge their responsibility to the people. It believes the council wishes to act in the best interests of the city, and that it is not impelled to ignore any duty to their constituency, which they have assumed. The SUN believes the majority of the council-elect are good business men, who wish to do right.
It does not believe they are either political or personal malignants, and have patriotism sufficient to exercise good, plain, common sense and practical judgment. The SUN is clearly of the opinion that the failure to re-elect Engineer Wilcox was a grave mistake and it reiterates the fact.
It believes it is a blunder which even the rankest partisanship cannot excuse. It looks as if it were a reckless disregard of the public interest, spurred on by an intense, malignant partisanship spirit. The SUN favors the sewer system as an admirable plan, approved by engineers to whom the city paid $10,000 for a plan, and by the present engineers and by good, common sense, and it believes the engineers in charge of construction should be retained until the plan is complete.

The Courier-Journal comes out with another two-column double headed editorial endeavoring to show "where it is at." In this editorial the Courier-Journal abandons the National Democratic movement and declares that it has proved itself to be a failure, that had all sound money Democrats followed the advice of the Courier-Journal and voted for Palmer and Buckner, W. J.
Bryan would have been elected. It also states that "we have no fear of free silver at 16 to 1, or at any other ratio." In this latter idea we believe that the Courier-Journal is wrong. We have no fear that the country can be carried on a free silver platform, and we doubt very much whether the issue of free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1 will ever be submitted to the people at a presidential election. But as the SUN has said before, it matters not what the issue may be in 1900, the personnel of the party opposed to a sound national currency will be approximately the same in 1900 as in 1896. The factor to be reckoned with in the future is Bryanism, and by Bryanism we mean that organized desire for office, which is all things to all men to gain victory. The rape of the Popular platform in '96 and the compilation of political vagaries known as the Chicago platform, shows the policy to which the leaders of the party were willing to get votes. It will be the same in 1900. The issue may not be free coinage at 16 to 1, and we believe that it will not, but there will be an issue and gathered around that issue will be found the same elements that came together and supported Bryan in 1900. A currency that is 60 per cent. flat will not suffice in 1900; the issue will undoubtedly be "absolute paper money."

The Courier-Journal says: "The coming two years will be years of reflection, discussion and readjustment.
Men like Gorman and Whitney and Hill, who are still members of the regular Democratic organization, can not afford to throw away sure Democratic states on another campaign like that of 1896. The young Democracy of the great northwest can not afford to mortgage its future either to Mr. Bryan or to Gov. Alfeld.
It is no possibility that the conditions of 1896 be exactly reproduced in 1900."

That depends upon the issue.
Upon another Populist platform, Democracy will lose, in 1900 as in 1896, many formerly sure Democratic states, whether men like Hill, Gorman and Whitney will it or not. The young Democracy of the northwest is already so permeated with the cheap money doctrines that its yielding to Bryan or some other leader of like views is already assured. The result of the congressional elections next year will determine to a great extent the platform of 1900. That free coinage of silver will be the issue next year there can be no doubt. At the same time, however, every district can make its own platform, and therefore the resolutions adopted at the congressional conventions will show the sentiment of the people and the results of the elections will demonstrate whether the platform of 1896 will last until 1900. We believe that those persons, of whatever party affiliation, who belittle the struggle that is before the friends of a stable national currency in 1898 and 1900 have no just conception of the gravity of the situation or the staying power of the leaders of the Bryanite forces.

It is good news that comes from Washington that the Frankfort lottery has been completely knocked out by a decision handed down yesterday by the United States supreme court. The Frankfort lottery was authorized by the common council of Frankfort in 1869 for the purpose of raising $100,000 for "The Common School of Frankfort." This franchise was sold in December, 1875, to J. J. Douglas, Owen Stewart and T.
F. Tatum, a private corporation of Louisville where it has since been operated. The suit against the Frankfort Lottery Company, and upon which Justice Harlan rendered his decision yesterday, was filed in the Jefferson circuit court March 8, 1892, and since that time the company has been able to keep itself out of the clutches of the law, by means of its vast wealth, which brought to its command the best legal talent in the country. The extent of its business can be imagined, from the fact that the company employed nearly a hundred persons in Louisville and its principal owner is said to have made nearly a million dollars out of the unlawful business. Speaking of the company the Louisville Post says:
"The Frankfort lottery of Kentucky is one of the many oddities of legislation which followed the early grants of the General Assembly. As far back as 1820 lotteries were authorized. One to raise $10,000 for Kentucky river improvements; $5,- 000 for the Maysville & Lexington turnpike; $1,000 for a church at Frankfort; $25,000 for a medical college at Lexington, and a smaller sum for draining the ponds in and around Louisville, were authorized by the General Assemblies of that period."

Society & Gossip.

RIGHT merrily has whirled society's wheel the week just past, and for the social calendar has been a full one, each day bringing forth one or more pleasant function. Keeping the people in a state of perpetual motion. Events this week will be very few, if signs are true; so society folk can spend their leisure moments in cushioned chairs, passing their sins in review.
The Daughters of the American Revolution gathered in pleasant sociability Saturday afternoon at the inviting home of Mrs. M. B. Nash.
A choice repast, served during the afternoon, added to the pleasure of the event. Mrs. Irene Cox will entertain the chapter on the last Saturday of next month.
On Saturday evening Miss Emma Reed was the hostess of the Chaffin Club, one of the most delightfully informal among the several social clubs. Both the gentler and sterner sex enjoyed the hospitality extended.

Mrs. E. E. Sutherland, ably assisted by Miss Mary Halloran, entertained this afternoon at her home on West Jefferson street, in honor of Mrs. Stickney, of Bowling Green.

A small dove party was entertained at cards Saturday evening at the home of Miss Daisy Goodwin, on North Seventh street.

December the 10th is the date of the Clark-Tyler wedding in Washington, D. C., and society both in Louisville and Washington is on the tip-toe of excitement over the anticipated event.

At the residence of Mrs. Cobby, on Broadway, Mrs. C. B. Austin will entertain the Crokinole Club Friday afternoon.

Owing to unaccountable circumstances the Young Ladies' Clique Club will not hold a meeting this week. The next meeting will be with Miss Martha Leech, on North Fourth street.

The Junior Warden Missionary Society of the Broadway Methodist church, will have a reception this evening at the residence of Mr. B. H.
Scott. A musical program is to be the feature of the evening and refreshments will be served.

After the meeting of the Guild of Grace church last evening with Mrs.
George Langstaff, on Court street, a sale of pictures took place. Pictures by Gibson, Frost, Smiley and other well known artists, were knocked off to be highest bidder.

A Christmas market and bazaar, under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Broadway Methodist church, will be held in a downtown building, beginning Dec. 18.

WOMENITY'S FASHION FILES.

Velvet picture hats are very popular this year, and especially when worn by the possessor of an attractive youthful face.

The newest shade of blue is best described as the shade of cornflower when it has begun to fade.

Bright colors are seen this year in the gloves. Vivid reds, greens and blues are shown in great variety.

On account of the popularity of the Russian blouse, handsome belts are very much in demand. Some beautiful designs are shown in hammered silver and gold, set with jewels.

London smoke is the name of an effect, deep gray, which will be in high favor this season for calling gowns.

All the shades of castor are to be the vogue among the best dressed women.

All the old fashioned stones from chrysothorax to opals are in favor, and coral and dainty silver is the height of elegance this season.

A young gentleman in the city, quite a scientific whist player by the way, was invited to join a party of ladies in an afternoon progressive whist game a few days ago.

He accepted the invitation, and while there photographed the conversation. He doesn't explain how he did it, and doesn't produce the photographic duplicates, all he does is to assume a metallic voice and show how the photograph does it. Something like this:

"Why, so glad to see you again!"
"Who deals?"
"Yes, we were waiting for the sixth street car."
"Oh, is it my play?"
"She had eighty-four yards!"
"What a trumps, please?"
"They had to stay up all night with it."
"Yes, George is in St. Louis."
"Dear me, I had forgotten all about the suit you lead from!"
"Mary has a new dressmaker and—"
"Can't I take it back?"
"There's that Mrs. Blank winning every hand. I suppose she'll gobble another prize."
"I won't do a thing to you, didn't you know that was my ace?"
"Have you seen her new hat?"
"Well, she looks like a guy in it!"
"Say, there's a medical somewhere?"
"Dear me, I have two extra cards."
"You snatched up two of mine.
Give them back or I'll have you arrested."
"What a hand—deal over!"
"Mrs. Jones is learning to ride the wheel."
"That old thing?"
"There, we have to cut again!"
"Did you hear that awful story about the Browns?"
"Hurrah! We go!"
"Who's got a pencil?"

"I worship you," he cried, bowing and imprinting a passionate kiss upon her small, white hand.
But she drew back and put him from her, a look of surprise and reproach upon her fair face.
"Forgive me if I have offended you," he begged.
"I am shocked and grieved at such conduct," she said, her cold, steady gaze fixed upon him, "you are a young lawyer with flattering prospects; you expect to rise in the world, and I must say that I—"
"But I only kissed your hand," he broke in.
"As I was going to say," she went on, "I expected you to aim higher."
When he recovered from the shock he found himself standing at the gate in the moonlight, alone.

A near-sighted young woman walking down Broadway, gave a glance at the window of a dry goods house within where several very fine samples of fashionable plaid hosiery were displayed. She checked a scream as she said to her companion: "Oh, come here quick and relieve my suspense!" "How?" said her friend.
"Why, tell me what I am looking at—bon constrictors or golf stockings."

This is the last imported English society story: "If any one should call this afternoon Bridget, say I am not feeling well. I am afraid I ate too much of that rich plum pudding for lunch, and it or something else has given me a raging headache. I am going to lie down. A few moments later the mistress from the kitchen sent the maid of the stairs heard Bridget say to two ladies who called for the first time: "Yes, umm, Mrs. A. is at home, but she ate so much plum pudding for lunch that she can't stand up so she went to bed to try to make herself feel more comfortable like."

The tempest howled.
The fragile maid clung wildly to the wreck—
Wave swept, the color left her cheek
And ran all down her neck.

"There ought to be an edict against the lavish use of rings," said a gentleman to a young lady friend one day last week. "In my opinion nothing is so ill formed. It seems to go with imitation diamonds and Bowery girls. If the girls would only believe that the complexion God gave them was far prettier than drug store complexions it would be a benefit to their friends as well as themselves.
Another thing," said he, "that goes with painted cheeks, bleached hair, etc., is a lavish use of perfumes." Soap and water, and talcum powder are more refreshing on cold days and on hot days or any other kind of days, than any amount of cheap "cologne." How much more delightful it would be to sit beside a man (for it is the men that saturate their handkerchiefs) in a street car and such places, if he would let perfume severely alone.

INGENIOUS PRISONERS.

Queer Things Made Without the Aid of the Stamp Book.

Julius Whitman, of the county jail, has on his desk a lamp which is at once a curiosity and a specimen of what can be done by a prisoner with scant materials. It was taken from the cell of two of the prisoners last week, and is now on exhibition.

The lamp is nearly as simple as the old Roman one composed of a floating wick and a vessel of oil. In this case, the receptacle for oil is a whiskey bottle, about eight inches in height, of the shape favored by men who have business in prohibition towns, with a capacity of perhaps a quart. When found by the guards it was filled with gasoline, a fact that would make its use exceedingly dangerous. The burner is composed of a cork and part of a gas jet. The tip of the jet containing the slot-shaped opening for the escape of the gas had been removed, leaving a round hole in the end of the jet. A round hole had been made in the cork of the bottle with a knife, and into this the jet has been thrust, making a rude but effective burner.

In the manufacture of the wick, considerable ingenuity had been shown. It is composed wholly of white twine, twisted into strands, and these neatly braided together into a round wick, as smooth and regular in appearance as a braided sash cord. The wick runs through the jet down into the bottle.

A number of plumbers had been at work about the jail building just before the lamp was found. It is supposed that the gasoline in the bottle was taken from their torches, while the other materials had been picked up in odd places. The only motive for the manufacture of the lamp which the jailer can assign is a restless longing for something to do, as the cells of all the prisoners are brilliantly lighted by electricity.

Another article of prisoner manufacture in Julius Whitman's possession is a "billy," of which the butt or heavy end, usually filled with bird shot, is packed with tightly rolled pieces of tin foil.
Much of the smoking tobacco in common use is packed in tin foil, and this the jailer can assign is a restless longing for something to do, as the cells of all
the prisoners are brilliantly lighted by electricity.

We spend our money at home for the raw material. Let us have some of it back for the manufactured article, so that we can continue to do business ourselves and at the same time help you. The money we pay out for grain and labor mostly stops in town, and the more our own people consume of our output the more we can make a market for home-grown breadstuffs and home labor. Business makes money circulate, one transaction

THE STRANGE FACES WE MEET.

Both In Society and On the Street.—Why Are Some Attractive and, Alas, Too Many Repulsive.

What a difference there is in the faces of women, and for that matter of men also, and how strange the effect is. There are faces that attract men and fascinate women, while there are others that seem to repel just as strongly. Did you ever study faces? Have you ever paid close attention to the looks of the men and women you meet in the course of a day? It is a fascinating study. Many of them are unattractive, but some of them have power that is most fascinating. Now, what is the secret of this charm and beauty? There is but one answer, and we will give it. It can be expressed in two words—

WRITTEN AT RANDOM.

Manager Fletcher Terrell, of Morton's Opera House, is authority for the statement that the recent yellow fever scare played havoc with show routes. He has had three cancellations in a comparatively short time, and the "Dates Ahead" columns of the dramatic papers have shown booked for Paducah that Manager Terrell has had no negotiations with whatever. Lillian Lewis, who was here a couple of years ago in "Cleopatra," was booked for Friday, but is now away up somewhere in Massachusetts.

Speaking of newspaper reporters, they are expected to have more than the ordinary grit. If they are allowed to pursue the even tenor of their way long enough, they usually acquire it, too. But a joke is now going the rounds indicating that one local reporter sometimes finds this very essential quality lacking. The story goes that he was called out about midnight not long since to report a killing on one of the railroads. When he reached the scene, it was found necessary to go out some distance on the trestle. The dim rays of a lantern reached a large pool of glistening blood on the ties, and the sight so affected the reporter that he became faint and had to be packed off the trestle by his companions, and revived.

The only new dances this season are those adopted by the American National Society of Masters of Dancing, says an exchange. This association met in New York last June and twenty four new dances were offered to a committee, which tried them and voted on their adoption. Three were chosen which will be taught this season in all the dancing schools throughout the country. These are "La Danse Beatrice," by Prof. Lawrence E. Dare; "Allemande," by Prof. Theodore Lytle, of New York; and the "Schenley," by Prof. H. L. Braun, of Pittsburg. "La Danse Beatrice" is a very graceful and pretty dance in schottische time. Its airy lightness and dignity remind one of the famous Gavotte, which made its appearance at the court of Louis XIV.

The "Allemande" takes its name from the French phrase a la main (with the hand) for the chief characteristic of the dance is the linking of the dancers' arms and hands as they promenade around each other, or take a few pretty steps as they move about the room. Throughout this dance the two-step is used.

The "Schenley" is named after an eminent lady in Pittsburg, and it is a combination of the Berlin polka and the waltz. Thus in the three new dances of the season, the old favorites, schottische, gavotte, two-step, polka and waltz, come into the square dance the original dancers have been adopted and will be taught in the dancing school. They are to be simply and quietly danced in a very conservative manner without any additions or embellishments.

A well known young man of Paducah had a very distressing experience at Clinton Sunday. He went down to spend the Sabbath with a young lady acquaintance, and had not previously provided himself with the information that the Illinois Central had made a big "bill" near the depot. When he started towards the hotel, attired in his best, he soon found him sliding down an embankment as high as Pike's Peak. He did his sliding on the bosom of his trousers, and when he wound up at the bottom of the declivity it was only by sticking his hands several inches in the mud to stop his progress that he could slack up. He was in a predicament, but the only thing left for him to do was to clean up and fill the engagement, and he claims that this is what he did.

Despite the protests that have appeared from time to time in local papers, the ladies of Paducah, or, in justice to me of them, a few of the ladies of Paducah, continue to wear their colossal millinery to the opera house. It may be that Manager Terrell will have to adopt the tactics of a Texas manager, who, after exhausting every other means without effect, had printed on the program the words, "All ladies between the "perfect health." No woman can look well when she is constantly miserable by distressing weaknesses and ailments. These things destroy the complexion, bring gloominess and then add in addition to the misery created, render the woman unattractive. No man can appear well, work well, or do well who is not feeling well. Imagine any man or woman trying to be attractive when troubled by headaches, tired feelings, and dizzy or hearing down sensations. It is simply impossible.

For more than twenty years the American people, and for that matter the inhabitants of the entire globe, have heard of a grand discovery that overcomes these troubles as if by magic and makes the person healthy as well as attractive. Its value has been appreciated by vast numbers as well as by the medical profession, but there are some who do not know what its secret and mysterious power can do for them; but if any tender of these lines wishes to know how these disagreeable, and often deadly, symptoms can be overcome; how health, vigor and happiness can be restored and how attractiveness may be secured, we answer unhesitatingly and frankly: "Use that great discovery, that proven remedy, "Warner's Safe Cure."

It is a common thing to bring proof of the value of health-giving remedies from those who have been restored. Warner's Safe Cure does not require this. It stands prominently upon an eminence of its own, and while there are thousands of people in America alone who have voluntarily acknowledged its vast benefit to them, it does not require their endorsement to prove to any sufferer that it can help, that it can cure, that it can brighten the face, remove the lines of care and thus render, through the channels of health, that pleasant attractiveness so much desired. A trial of this great remedy will fully prove to you the truth of this great assertion.

The irreligious libertine gauges the rest of humanity by the standard he sets up for himself. The one who is always ready to impugn the motives of others has motives of his own that are not what they should be. The one who claims that the world is rapidly growing worse and that everything is going to the devil, is himself getting worse each day. The world is just what we make it. We see the world through ourselves and sometimes the windows of ourselves need cleaning. The world is growing better every day the sun shines. There are lots of virtue and goodness still in the world. Some men and women are as good as they used to be and they are growing better as the days roll by. The sun of civilization shines just as bright as it ever did, in fact it shines brighter, because a great deal of the brush and fogs of ignorance have been cleared out of the way. The world is just what we make it. There are still fogs and clouds of doubt and darkness, of ignorance and fear, but the days are growing clearer and brighter as the years roll by.

An education was never intended to enable a man to get a living without working for it.
